Since Ethan's accident 2023, the challenges have been immense – but he has risen to them and made progress. However, there is still much to do for both Ethan and others who find themselves in a similar situation. The national spinal charity Aspire provide vital services for those by giving support to individuals and research into ever evolving solutions.

The last race night was sold out with some unable to get ticket. Due to the generosity of many the event last year raised over £2,500.

All profits from the night will go into continuing this important work.
